

Curriculum Frameworks- Undergraduate Public Health

Public Health 101

I. Overview and Basic Principles

- Historical context and scope of public health
- Public health as cross-cutting, interdisciplinary, systems thinking
- Epidemiologic principles and population health

II. Population Health Tools

- Health communication and informatics
- Health and social and behavioral sciences
- Health policy, law, and ethics

III. Morbidity and Mortality: Determinants, Burdens, and Interventions

- Environmental
- Communicable diseases
- Non-communicable diseases, unintentional injuries, and violence

IV. Health Care and Public Health Systems

- Health workforce
- Organization of health care and public health systems
- Costs, quality, and access to health care and public health services

VI. Special Public Health Education Focus Areas

- Health disparities and vulnerable populations
- Public health preparedness and disaster management